Winning the national championship this year was an incredible feeling for the players, alumni, coaches, staff and fans. However; knowing we had our dugout club with us the entire season made the experience that much more rewarding. Our family of Seminoles was felt all season long and again when we most needed it in OKC. Thank you for your financial and personal contribution to our program we are proud of all of us for making history. -Lonni Alameda

IMPACT:

Coaches Clubs funds this past year were used to complete the dugout expansion project. This project included the renovation and updating of both the home and visiting dugouts in order to create a safer environment for the student-athletes while also enabling them to be closer to the field. Updates included a new net structure, bench seating and graphic updates.

FUTURE IMPACT:

Next year, Coaches Clubs funds will be used towards covering the bullpen area. The current structure does not extend over the bullpen which causes issues during inclement weather. The project will include an extended covering over the bullpen to allow players to practice and train during inclement weather.
